

May Name Fitzalan Governor General Of Irish Free State

Fiance of Princess Mary of England is Most Likely Candidate to Take up Reins of Government in New Irish Domain

ULSTER REPLY COMING SOON

Conferences Arranging New Ruling Plan are Among Most Important in History of England, With Age Old Question Settled

London.—Viscount Fitzalan or Lord Lascelles, finance of Princess Mary, will be the first governor of the Irish free state, it was reported Wednesday following a meeting of the privy council.

Eamonn DeValera Wednesday sent an urgent summons to all Dail Eireann cabinet members to attend a special session at noon Thursday to pass on the peace treaty. Michael Collins and other members of the delegation return to Dublin Wednesday night. The Dail Eireann itself will be summoned later to ratify the treaty.

At the same time it was learned King George was preparing to proclaim amnesty for Irish political prisoners—Sinn Feiners arrested for offenses committed in connection with the fight for freedom. Rumors this amnesty already has been proclaimed are premature.

London—King George Wednesday issued a proclamation of amnesty to all prisoners now in Irish jails on political charges.

Instructions were issued for the immediate release of Sinn Fein prisoners in accord with the acceptance of Ireland as a free state.

King George Wednesday morning met Premier Lloyd George, Viscount Fitzalan, the present viceroy of Ireland, and the members of the imperial cabinet—the whole making up the privy council—in one of the most important conferences in the history of the empire. The king and his ministers discussed plans for the launching of the new nation—the Irish free state.

If Lascelles should be named governor, Princess Mary, daughter of the king and queen, would be technically the "first lady of Ireland" after her marriage to him and the king's son-in-law would be the representative of the crown in Ireland.

It was generally believed, however, that Fitzalan would be named as he is already conversant with Irish affairs through his office of viceroy there. There was an impression also that he would be more acceptable to Irishmen than a member of the king's family would be.

The privy council also discussed the special session of parliament called for Dec. 14 at which the settlement with Ireland will be submitted for ratification.

WITHDRAWS TROOPS
Preparations were being made Wednesday to withdraw the British troops remaining in Ireland. The status of British warcraft in Irish harbors, however, is not affected, under the peace treaty. The Irish republican army, which did so much guerrilla fighting up to the time of the truce, and which resumed drilling when it broke down, probably will form the nucleus of the new Irish army authorized under the treaty.

MORE
Ulster was the only silent factor in the great rejoicing throughout England and Ireland.

The answer of Ulster is expected to be brought to London Wednesday night by Secretary Shackleton, the premier's aide, who carried the pact to Belfast.

Michael Collins, called at No. 10 Downing street Wednesday morning to discuss the details of one or two points in the treaty.

BRITISH APPROVE
Britain stood solidly behind the result and expressed hearty accord with the message of the king to the premier, praising the patience, tolerance, foresight, energy and brilliance of Lloyd George. It is reported that after he had successfully concluded the negotiations, he said:

"This is the happiest day of my life. Age long problems have been solved."

It is the general impression that Eamonn De Valera may be retained as head of the provisional government. No radical change in the personnel of the Irish government is expected.

No doubt there is a little disappointment in the extremist section over the necessity of taking the oath of allegiance to the king. While De Valera and other of the republicans who expected a separate country are expected to approve the peace terms in public they may form an "opposition party." This party probably would be made up of Irish intellectuals and the residue of the Irish republican brotherhood which has existed for centuries. There is little doubt that the strong leaders will be able to force the terms through the Dail.

MELLON STILL IS OPPOSED TO WAR VET BONUS

Secretary of Treasury Also is Dissatisfied With Revenue
Law Revisions

Washington.—The treasury department is still opposed to the passage of the soldier bonus bill. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon Wednesday in a letter to congress in his annual report. Conditions, he said, have not changed since President Harding went before the senate and induced it to send the bonus bill back to the finance committee.

"And the treasury's attitude remains the same," Mellon said.

"Even without any soldiers' bonus or adjusted compensation, the estimates show that the federal government will spend in the fiscal year, 1922, and again in the fiscal year, 1923, about $450,000,000 a year for the relief of veterans of the late war," Mellon said.

MELLON DISSATISFIED
Outstanding in Mellon's report also was his clear dissatisfaction with the way congress has revised the revenue laws. In line with President Harding's opinion expressed in his message Tuesday that the tax bill must be again revised, Mellon said: "The remedy" for the situation that will result from the present measure lies in:

1. A prompt reduction of the surtaxes on big incomes (fixed by congress at a maximum of 50 per cent) to a 25 per cent maximum and an eventual cut to 10 per cent.
2. A reduction of the corporation income tax, fixed by congress at 15 per cent.
3. Reduction of the present rates on wealthy estates, which range up to 25 per cent.
4. Substitution of a low rate general tax on a broad class of articles or transactions. As an example, Mellon cited the present levy on automobiles and tires, but he did not outline his plan specifically.

TAX FIGHT WILL BE REVIVED

HARDING HINTS DISLIKE FOR PRESENT LAW

Is Determined to Whip Insurgents
Back into Ranks of Republican Party

By David Lawrence
Copyright, 1921, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington—President Harding's address to congress is in many respects one of the most remarkable documents ever sent by the executive to the legislative branch of the government, remarkable for the many significant circumstances which have made necessary an appeal for the solidarity of political parties in America as well as the plea for more executive power with the promise that it will be prudently exercised.

Mr. Harding didn't mention the Republican party nor did he make reference to the "agricultural bloc" which threatens to become an insurgent movement not unlike the famous revolt which led to the Taft-Roosevelt split in 1912. The fact that the president devoted the very beginning of his address to a plea for party harmony as against sectionalism, is due to the tendency of the agricultural west and south to unite as against the manufacturing east, undermining the hold which Democracy as well as Republican leaders have hitherto had upon their respective followers of the same political party in congress.

President Harding has seen a coalition of Democrats and Republicans become so powerful as to force the Republican majority to accept a tax revision bill for which Mr. Harding, with characteristic frankness, now says would be insincere if he accepted responsibility.

RENEW CONSIDERATION

"It would suggest insincerity," says Mr. Harding, "if I express complete accord with every expression recorded in your roll calls, and a sentence further the president tells what is in his mind when he adds: 'Later on, when other problems are solved I shall make some recommendations about renewed consideration of our tax problem.'"

This is the first public indication that Mr. Harding isn't satisfied with the tax bill which congress passed and which he signed. There is of course a renewed discussion of a sales tax as a new method of taxation altogether but Mr. Harding's address to congress is the outgrowth of executive discontent which has been known on the inside for several weeks, and which has just come to a head in his message.

The president made it clear that he had no desire to encroach upon the legislative branch of the government or "to dictate" to congress but his message contains the following requests for more authority and power to the executive than is now possessed:

HIS REQUESTS
First, the right to negotiate with foreign governments concerning the funding of war debts. Mr. Harding promises that he will submit the agreement reached to congress but must not be hindered by congress during the negotiations.

Second, the right to ignore these provisions of the Merchant Marine act of 1920 passed by a previous Republican congress which requires the United States to denounce certain treaties that conflict with the authority of our government to grant reduced duties on imports carried to our shores in vessels flying the American flag.

Third, the right of the executive to handle the "emergency" tariff law when it is passed so that rates may be adjusted "to meet unusual and changing conditions which cannot be accurately anticipated."

Unquestionably there will be a controversy over each one of these requests. Already congress has shown a tendency to balk at the grant of power in the first case. Contention over the second has been going on for several months. The attitude of congress on the third point has not yet crystallized though the advocates of high protection see in it a menace to the permanence of the rates which may be granted them.

British Pry Off Lid When Irish Go Free

London—In every pub from White Chapel to Hampstead Wednesday morning they were drinking a toast "to the king, the empire and the Irish free state."

On the stock exchange the relief was reflected. Traders looked on the agreement as a stabilizing influence in international affairs.

Everyone was telling "the inside story" of how the negotiations were eliminated. Irishmen here who used to growl at the mention of the royal Irish constabulary were snapping Englishmen on the back.

A story is told of how a dignified cabinet member astonished the little grand-daughter of Premier Lloyd George by dancing a jig in Downing street after the signing of the agreement.

The dash of Shakespeare, secretary to the premier, to Guster with the copy of the pact is compared to the ride of "Paul Revere." He made the quick trip on record from London to Belfast.

GERMANY WILL NOT BE SUMMONED TO ARMS CONFERENCE

Harding Believes No Questions
Will Arise That Require
German Presence

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—President Harding has decided there is no need of inviting Germany to the armament conference, high administration officials said Wednesday.

His intention, recently announced, was to call Germany in to the close of the conference to put her on record as approving certain measures adopted.

It was the apparent intention of having Germany's written acceptance of provisions regarding land disarmament and of securing her cooperation in certain financial arrangements. But indications are growing that the armament conference will deal with neither of these questions—at least in any final way—and the need of having German representatives on hand is therefore felt to have disappeared.

Old Divorce Settlement is Revived in Case Brought by Washington Woman

Milwaukee—Property division following a divorce action nearly 40 years ago, resulted in a suit started here Tuesday by Christina Blake, Seattle, Wash., 55, against Martin Johnson, who has had charge of her affairs for thirty years.

Mrs. Blake charges misappropriation of funds. She was divorced from Barnum Blake in 1882. In 1885 it was discovered by accident that some property had not been mentioned in the post-divorce property settlement, which Blake owned in Cook county, Illinois.

Petitioning a new settlement, Mrs. Blake was awarded by the Chicago courts $30,000 in 1890. She put the handling of the property in the hands of Johnson, then a Milwaukee lawyer and claims he owes her $25,000 as her part of the sale of the property, which took place later and asks for an accounting of the property.

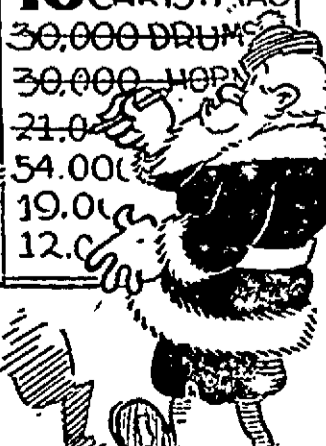

Attorney General William J. Morgan of Wisconsin is counsel for Johnson.

With few exceptions, even among the "old guard" on the finance committee, the president's proposal to confer large powers in tariff making on the tariff commission through the executive has not met with favor.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the tariff committee, denounced Harding's tariff suggestions as "impracticable."

Harding's proposal for a quasi judicial tribunal, which apparently would be somewhat similar to the Kansas industrial court has aroused strong opposition in labor circles.

4-Power Pact Will Remove War Fears

Agreement Expected Soon Will

Document Now.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—The four power agreement to take the place of the Anglo-Japanese alliance will be announced to the world very shortly, according to authoritative quarters here Wednesday in close touch with the negotiations of the "big three" which developed this understanding.

It is understood that preliminary reports have been received by the Japanese delegation here that the Tokyo government has approved this agreement between the United States, Great Britain, Japan and France on the Pacific and the Far East.

There is also strong reason to believe, from information received from highly authoritative sources here, that the Japanese government has decided to accept the "5-5-3" plan of the Hughes proposal for limitation of naval armament, along with the four power agreement. A final reply to Baron Kato's cable to the Tokyo government Friday night is expected here at any moment, if it has not already been received.

The quadruple entente, as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance, will provide for "mutual discussion—mutual avoidance of difficulties." Britain's spokesmen said Wednesday.

Some form of arbitration of disputes or provision for "breathing spells" before any hostilities in the Pacific could be undertaken would be its underlying principle, he indicated.

While this is not definitely known, it is understood in some quarters that the agreement has been actually completed in writing, and that the only thing now necessary to be done is for the representatives of the four great powers to affix their signatures.

The British spokesman made it clear that the new entente would have termination of the Anglo-Japanese alliance as its self-evident corollary and would provide for limitation of fortification on the points nearest Japan, for instance, Guam.

China will not be involved. The arrangements agreed upon by the big three last Friday and now awaiting approval from Tokyo, dealt with the Pacific ocean, rather than China proper.

Washington—Respect for China's neutrality in case of war in which she has no part was provided in a resolution adopted Wednesday by the Far Eastern committee.

At the same time the drafting committee report limiting foreign wirelessness in China to legation business was adopted.

The neutrality resolution is concurrent with point 3 of China's 10 points presented at the outset of the Far Eastern session.

for Middle West

Milwaukee—Plumbing supply dealers here, composing the Central Supply association, were Wednesday named defendants in a civil action, in papers which were placed in the hands of Sheriff McManus for service by Attorney General William J. Morgan, as the fourth of his alleged "trust busting."

The action brought against the association is said to be in the nature of a circuit court petition demanding an injunction against it to prevent the eight large wholesale concerns from operating under its agreement.

The companies listed in the complaint as members of the association in Wisconsin are: Hoffman and Billings Manufacturing company; the Robert Rom company; B. Hoffman Manufacturing company; Rundell Spence company; Standard Sanitary company; E. R. Dengel company; Wisconsin Plumbing and Heating Supply company, and the James B. Clow and Sons company.

The real intent of the court action by the attorney general is said to be to test out the question of the lawful use of an alleged price fixing system known as the "Clow bulletin." This catalogue is issued by the Clow company of Chicago and according to Morgan's complaint is alleged to fix the price of plumbing supplies in the middle west.

CONGRESS SPLITS
ON TARIFF POLICY
Washington—Congress was split Wednesday on the tariff policy laid down in President Harding's message.

Reaction against the president's scheme to give flexibility to the tariff was marked in nearly every group.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the tariff committee, denounced Harding's tariff suggestions as "impracticable."

Will Whip Farmer Bloc Back Into G. O. P. Line

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington—Under the personal direction of President Harding, the "old guard" in congress and members of the cabinet have set out to smash the agricultural bloc.

At recent conferences at the White House in which Senators Watson and Curtis and Secretary of War Weeks and other cabinet members took part, it was agreed that Republican party safety in the next congressional campaign, and the presidential campaign of 1924 depends on whipping all factions within the party into line under distinct party leadership.

Harding, in his message to congress Tuesday, gave notice that the bloc must go, and that Republicans must obey their party leaders and accept the legislative program they party stood back of.

Cabinet members will follow up Harding's lead in speeches in various parts of the country, assailing the farm bloc directly, denouncing the legislation the bloc stands for, and telling the public that the welfare of the country depends on the abolition of all such special groups in congress.

G. O. P. hostility to the bloc arises out of the fact that party control of congress is menaced by the strength of the western-southern farmer coalition. This coalition, with a distinct program of legislation, proved in the special session of congress that it could upset party control of both house and senate.

Increased Revenue

Racine—Claiming to have suffered a deficit of $330,000 in the past 58 months in supplying gas to Racine, Kenosha, South Milwaukee and Cudahy, the Wisconsin Gas and Electric company at a hearing here Wednesday before the railroad commission declared that gas rates must be increased and not decreased if the order of the railroad commission for an 8 per cent earning on utility capital was to be carried out. Great decreases in consumption of gas with no decreases in operating expenses caused revenue losses.

City officials of Kenosha declared that unless gas rates there are decreased the city would construct a gas plant, having received propositions from expert engineers who claimed to be able to manufacture at 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. The proposition will be submitted to the commission.

VIOLENCE IN CHICAGO

Chicago—Sluggings and other acts of violence were reported through the stockyard district as a result of the packing workers strike Wednesday.

Stanley Rytkin was shot and wounded in a street fight between strikers and workers, William Wilko and his daughter, both packing plant employees, were attacked and seriously wounded.

Many fist fights were reported. Conflicting stories as to the number of men who had joined the strike in Chicago were still being told by packers and union heads.

Union officials claimed that from 15,000 to 25,000 were out while packers declared less than 2,000 were on strike, and declared they were operating normal capacity.

Prices of meat continued to rise, however, pork having advanced from 13 to 25 cents a pound since Saturday.

Independent packers planned to ask an injunction to prevent picketing under the Monday supreme court decision.

ALIENISTS CHARGE BLACK'S INSANITY IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Morning Session of Loan Trial Devoted to Hearing Insanity Experts

Insanity experts and local physicians who testified in the liberty loan trial case on trial at the courthouse Wednesday morning and Tuesday afternoon are united in their opinion that John Merritt Black is suffering from the hebephrenia form of dementia praecox. This particular type of insanity frequently manifests itself at an early age, but is more liable to make its appearance between the ages of 15 and 30 years, they said. It often lies dormant for long periods and it is difficult to tell when it first manifests itself.

Dr. H. E. Bradley of Milwaukee, a noted alienist, was the first witness to testify when court convened Wednesday morning. He has had experience with several thousand cases of insanity and during his practice has been connected with some of the leading insane institutions of the country, including the state hospital near Oshkosh.

Dr. A. Sherman, superintendent of the state hospital, identified the records of his institution relating to John Merritt Black which were introduced in evidence by Attorney Corrigan. He recalled Mr. Black having been at the northern hospital and told of his condition while there and of his being transferred to Outagamie county insane asylum upon his condition becoming chronic. He had not seen him since being transferred.

Dr. Herbert Powers of Milwaukee, another prominent alienist, was on the witness stand when court adjourned at noon. Both he and Dr. Bradley visited Mr. Black at the county asylum Tuesday and each related the condition in which they found him. The only other witness was Dr. G. A. Ritchie, who was recalled.

Spencer Says Mrs. Black Suspected Husband Insane Long Before Loan Visits

Physicians Declare on Witness
Stand That Black's Insanity
Might Have Started in Youth
—Tell of Visit to Home.

Judge A. M. Spencer of municipal court declared on the witness stand in the trial of the liberty loan case circuit court Tuesday afternoon that Mrs. Lillian Black conferred with him prior to the alleged raid with reference to the mental condition of her husband and to the advisability of having him committed to some institution. This information was brought out by Attorney P. H. Martin over the objections of Attorney Corrigan.

According to the testimony of Dr. V. F. Marshall who visited him at the county asylum Nov. 25 in company with Drs. G. A. Ritchie and J. B. MacLaren, John Merritt Black is suffering from dementia praecox, a form of insanity that often makes its appearance at an early age.

Dr. Marshall said he visited Mr.

he was a committeeman of Outagamie council of defense during the war and worked in the second ward of that city. He had personal knowledge of John Merritt Black having been called on for a subscription to the fourth liberty loan. He visited his home on the night in question, but did not recall who went with him.

He said the local committee was being assisted that night by a committee from Appleton and that he entered the residence through the front door. He visited the home alone and did not see Dr. Rector at the time. He remained in the hall and did not see any members of the family. Someone said Mr. Black had signed up and he remained only 30 seconds.

Mr. Donahue said he was in court last week when Gustave Keller read the names of the committeemen and recalled the name of L. Black, a committeeman of the Second ward, and said he was a brother of John Merritt Black.

F. W. Grogan said he was one of

NO EXAMINATION
"I met him in the office of the superintendent of the asylum," said Dr. Marshall, "and introduced myself and the other doctors to him. I told him we came out for the purpose of making a physical examination, but he would not permit us to do so. We then endeavored to get him to permit us to make a blood test but to this he also objected."

"We engaged him in conversation in order to ascertain his mental condition. He said he was acquainted with me and Dr. Ritchie, but was not acquainted with Dr. MacLaren. I then spoke to him about members of his family and relatives who resided in the east."

"He described a trip he made to Ohio several years ago and of being protected by whispering angels. We mentioned the visit the committee paid him at his home and he did not get excited or worked up about it at all. He simply looked upon it as an incident."

HEARD "VOICES"
Dr. Marshall related the story of the visit in detail as told by him and which differed very little from that given by other members of the family and when he asked him he he was frightened he said he was not. He said voices told him to subscribe and he did so.

He related his experience at the state hospital and said he was accompanied there by kings and queens and Lutherans and Catholics. He recalled having read a certain book at an early age and again as a young man that made a deep impression upon him. It was entitled, "A Living Death or Hell Upon Earth" and contained the names of several Appleton people, among them Dr. G. A. Ritchie, Judge A. M. Spencer, E. J. Zuehlke and Thomas Flanagan.

A current of electricity he said passed through him when he signed the subscription and there were two loud reports and two flashes of electricity in an adjacent room. He said the visitors used no violence upon him.

Attorney Corrigan took up the different forms of insanity on cross examination and went into detail as to each. Dr. Ritchie corroborated Dr. Marshall's story concerning the visit to the county insane asylum and was on the stand when court adjourned at 5 o'clock.

He had known Black for eight years and knew that efforts had been made to get him to subscribe to the fourth liberty loan. He was not at his home on the night of Oct. 19, and was not aware the committee was going there until so informed at Jack's place. He denied the statement imputed to him on the witness stand by a member of the Black family that they had scared John Merritt Black into signing for bonds.

The intertroop rally to be staged by the local council Dec. 30 will include six local troops, one from Neenah and one from Kaukauna. The contests will be held in the Y. M. C. A. and will include knot tying, first aid work, semaphore and flashlight signalling, and the producing of fire by friction. Winners in the contests will be awarded prizes by the local council.

tions for liberty bonds. He said he was a member of the party that visited Kaukauna on the night in question, but did not know where he was going when he left home.

The party visited several homes, he said, and he understood one was Black's. He did not go into the home and was not on the premises, having remained between the automobile and sidewalk.

On cross examination Attorney Corrigan brought out that the car stopped at Jack's residence before going to Black's and that Jack's occupied the car with the witness and his chauffeur.

Thomas Larkin of Black Creek, was in Appleton visiting with friends Tuesday.

FIND MOONSHINE IN FAST DRIVER'S CAR

Alfred Winkelman, Little Chute, was arrested Tuesday by Patrick Randerson, village marshal, for reckless driving in the village. After the arrest the officers looked through the automobile and found a quart of moonshine, which was brought into court. Winkelman was fined $50 and costs by Judge A. M. Spencer in municipal court Wednesday morning for reckless driving and having moonshine in his possession.

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen and James McRae of the Willy company are attending the pure food show at New London and are in charge of the Willy company's display booth.

R. A. Nelson of Hortonville, was an Appleton business visitor Tuesday. J. A. Oakly of Rhinelander, was in Appleton on business Tuesday.

HELP FOND DU LAC FORM AD MENS CLUB

GRAHAM STUART NEXT SPEAKER ON FORUM PROGRAM

Noted Badger Will Discuss Relations Between the United States and Europe

For two successive Sundays Appleton people have heard discussions of a problem which, at least in its present stages, is local to America and has little if any relation to America's place in the world at large. Next Sunday evening there will be a discussion of the relation of the United States to Europe when Dr. Graham Stuart of the University of Wisconsin speaks to the People's Forum in Lawrence Memorial chapel.

Dr. Stuart only recently returned from Europe where he made a very careful study of economic and political conditions and the relation of Europe's problems to the United States. The results of this analysis of Europe's condition are being incorporated in a book which Dr. Stuart soon will publish. His intimate knowledge of European affairs makes him especially well qualified to discuss this subject.

USEFUL, ATTRACTIVE GIFTS
at the Woman's Club Bazaar, Friday, Dec. 9, 2:30 p. m., Eagles Hall. Supper served at 5:30-7:00 for 50c. Cards after dinner and evening. Everybody welcome.

Dr. Stuart has been connected with the extension division of the university as a lecturer for some time. He is regarded as one of the most brilliant orators on the university's staff and is in great demand as a speaker, not only in Wisconsin, but all over the country. His lecture on "The United States and Europe," which he is to deliver here, is described as one of the most brilliant and the most analytical of any that now is being delivered from the American platform.

The meeting Sunday evening is to begin at 7:30 with a musical program prepared under the direction of Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence Conservatory of Music. A silver collection will be taken to defray the cost of the meeting. The speaker is to begin his lecture not later than 8 o'clock.

REACH SETTLEMENT IN FIGHT OVER WILL

Heirs of Mary A. Fox Object When Estate is Given to Her Brother

Mrs. Etta Fox, daughter-in-law of Mrs. Mary A. Fox, widow of Henry D. Fox, came here from Los Angeles, Calif., to contest the will made by Mary A. Fox, who gave all her property to her brother instead of to the grandchildren of her son. The property was valued at $6,000.

The will was made on July 21, 1921, and on August 13, 1921, she signed a deed of the real estate to the same brother, leaving about $800 in the bank in personal property to go under the will.

Objection was filed to the will on the ground of undue influence and mental incompetency and action was brought to set aside the deed on the same ground.

The will contest consumed the time of Judge Bottensack for almost a week, and while the parties were awaiting his decision the action for setting aside the deed was started in municipal court.

When the parties were ready with their witnesses to try the action a settlement was made in which the brother paid the guardian for the children the sum of $3,500.

Morgan & Johns represented the opponents to the will and also to setting aside the deed, while A. H. Krugmeyer represented the proponents of the will and the grantees in the deed.

CENTER VETERANS' WORK IN GREEN BAY

Consolidation of the three departments heretofore handling the claims of disabled ex-service men into one department caused the detailing of two physicians, a dentist, another nurse and eight or ten stenographers to the Green Bay sub-office of the Veterans' bureau. The chance will take place as soon as additional room can be obtained. It is planned to have this department housed in the Green Bay federal building.

Visits by the district medical supervisor from Washington to that bureau resulted in the consolidation which will make Green Bay the headquarters for the entire eighth district of twenty-two counties. This means that all ex-service men in need of medical aid will be treated in Green Bay instead of Milwaukee and Chicago. In addition to these new office it is likely that a representative of the War Risk insurance office will take up headquarters there.

Officials of the Veterans' bureau believe the new system will be of great benefit to the ex-service. About ten men will be examined every day and then referred to local physicians and hospitals for further treatment.

Businessmen Urged To Take Greater Interest In Educational Matters

William Mather Lewis Declares Wisest course for Businessmen is to See That Rising Generation Learns to Think Straight

The most economical and the most businesslike thing that the American businessman can do in this age is to train the rising generation to think and think straight and it can do that only by showing a greater and a more concentrated interest in America's educational problems, declared William Mather Lewis, Washington, D. C., education specialist of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in an address before the chamber of commerce forum in Elk hall Tuesday night. Mr. Lewis emphasized the part which public schools have come to play in national life and urged a more careful consideration of education by businessmen.

Mr. Lewis said that the businessman owes it to the future of the country and to the future of industry to increase his interest in education to the end that every child be given an opportunity of playing a part in the growth of the nation.

VITAL QUESTION

"The question of education," he said, "assumes a national importance which up to this time we have failed to recognize. And because of our failure to recognize it, it came about that a large percentage of the boys who were examined for the draft could neither read nor write. Also, be it remembered, that thousands of college graduates who offered their services had to admit when they were questioned as to their ability for work requiring absolute accuracy that they knew a great deal in general and nothing in particular. This is not a proud admission for a country which boasts equal opportunity for all. There are in this country today 5,000,000 people above the age of ten who can neither read nor write. The republic is not safe when such a condition exists. This great mass of ignorance provides a breeding place for the seeds of bolshevism and destructiveness. Industrially this illiteracy is costly. Lives are lost; machinery destroyed; production decreased, through inability to read.

"In analyzing the amount of education which the average American child receives, the civic development department has learned that out of every 1,000 beginners in the public schools, 250 drop out before they reach the seventh grade and 75 more before they reach the eighth grade. It is essential to good citizenship that the children of America receive more than the bare rudiments of an elementary education.

"It is a fact significant in a study of the physical development of the coming generation as well as in connection with their economic situation that in a small city in Wisconsin the children spend $4,000 more a year for sweets and movies than is spent for the public school system of the community and that in Minneapolis the school children average 10 cents a day for these luxuries. American business may well look with apprehension upon the physical strength and financial wisdom of a generation which gets its recreation in such large measure in soft drink resorts and dark and often times unventilated motion picture houses. Where this process has gone far, it means that an extra burden has been placed on the schools and that they must provide practically the only opportunity for proper physical development the child has. Thus far the public at large has not appreciated the burden and responsibility which the schools have nor what it will mean to the future of our people.

"Finally, let us give more thought to government in our educational system. In the great schools and universities of Europe, the mind of the best youth is turned to the service of the state as a life work ranking with any profession. In America, the politician has been looked down on, and the public servant has been viewed with suspicion. Our government is as good as the people desire it to be. Let us teach the principles of our government and love for its institutions to every child in the land, let us point the way to the nation's service and thereby create not only a sound and abiding patriotism, but ever-growing efficiency in government.

THE IRISH SETTLEMENT

Ireland becomes a part of the British empire as a free state. This in a nutshell is the settlement reached between representatives of the crown and of the Sinn Féin. On the one hand, Ireland makes definite promise of allegiance to the empire, on the other the recognition of Ireland as an independent state is said to be clear.

Thus we have a settlement of the age-long controversy which operated only to estrange peoples whose history and development ought to have been in the closest accord and friendship. After centuries of misunderstanding, in which the British were to blame, the elemental good in man has been allowed to prevail and justice has triumphed. Mr. Gladstone tried to make the English people see the light, but his great statesmanship was repudiated and that monument of decay and reaction, the house of lords, continued to control the destinies of the empire until liberalism finally struck it out of existence, for all practical purposes and put at the head of the government a true democrat.

Peace with Ireland rests on the man-to-man foundation. England takes another remarkable stride forward in the perfection of her democracy by telling Ireland she is free to do as she pleases and asking her to join with the empire for their common security and advancement. Ireland accepts the proffered hand in true brotherly spirit, agrees to forget and forgive and the quarrel is ended. How sensible, how rational, how human! If it robs the crown of some of its luster and the throne of some of its splendor, it advances the cause of democracy and makes for the brotherhood of man.

What the representatives of the Dail and the Crown have subscribed to the parliaments of England and Ireland will ratify. Ulster is left out of the transaction, unless it chooses to exercise the good sense of voluntarily becoming a party to the arrangement. The state of the British empire which makes possible a settlement of this kind is a far cry from the days of Lord John Russell, Disraeli and even Salisbury. It is a thousand years from the reform bill, as time was measured before that historic event. Queen Victoria would never have believed it possible and yet she has been dead but a few years.

Undoubtedly the fire through which England went from 1914 to 1917 hastened the germination of the seed that had laid cold in the ground so long. Without the World War England would never have capitulated to Ireland so soon. From the Irish standpoint it is a complete surrender by the mother country, but if we go beneath the surface it is one of the greatest triumphs for British statesmanship, character and farsightedness in the history of the empire. Lloyd George could wish for no greater fame than that which will immortalize his name as the maker of peace between England and Ireland; peace, moreover which will be enduring because it rests on righteousness. It is a political achievement that ranks with the greatest of which the world knows, and is a fitting culmination of his distinguished service to the empire.

ORGANIZED CHARITY

A large percentage of the citizens of this and every town know of the need and misery of families in distress only from the appeals which feature the affecting appeals of charity organizations. They have no real appreciation of the suffering and want all about them, and many of them possibly would not give a thought to the poor if these organizations did not remind them of their duty.

Relief must be administered through efficient associations. Charity could not be dispensed promiscuously, for that would prompt dependency and the deserving would be neglected. These organizations know who are in need and deserve help. Moreover, they help the unfortunate to their feet. Men and women who have more than enough to satisfy their physical needs and vanities, and who can afford to take recreation and enjoyment, have no idea as a rule of the state of those who have little or nothing. The work performed by charity organizations would be facilitated if more well-to-do persons came into immediate contact with poverty. Poverty, too, would become less of a problem under their constructive interest.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

What a change has taken place in Republican policies in the short space of a year if we can accept President Harding as a party authority! At this time in 1920 the party had been swept into power on a veritable tidal wave of popular indorsement. Knowing full well before the election how it would result, the party leaders went to the farthest extremes in holding the administration of President Wilson up to execration. Whatever he had done was wrong and would be departed from henceforth and forever. His entire foreign policy was declared to be subversive of American interests and the height of national folly. The bitter-enders were raised to the seventh heaven of delight by the apparent capitulation of the party to their views that the United States should withdraw completely from the affairs of the Old World and should paddle its own canoe in its own waters with its own paddle. What was supposed to be the Washington policy of non-entanglement was vindicated and the policy of isolation glorified. We would not become involved in Europe or any other part of the world under any pretext or for any purpose. The idea was made clear and definite, and the politicians uttered a devout "Amen." With the exception of Borah, Johnson and a few of the other irreconcilables to whose motives some principle may be conceded, this was done to make the gulf between Wilsonian doctrine and the new era about to dawn bottomless and unbridgeable.

Turn to President Harding's first annual message to congress and read with amazement that the campaign oratory of 1920 was a court jest. Mr. Harding tells the people of the United States today that this country must take part in the reconstruction of Europe. He tells them it must have a hand in the political and economic affairs of the Old World to save it from chaos and destruction. It must do this first, he says, because of a duty to humanity. How Wilsonian this sounds! In the second place, we must do it because Europe cannot get to its feet without American assistance, and there can be no return to normalcy here until there is normalcy over there. The president says world forces are working in the direction of world peace and he predicts that the time is approaching when war will be banished. Sitting at Washington today to bear him out, is the great disarmament conference, which in its collateral undertakings is to associate the United States with the other nations of the world for the political emancipation of China and the preservation of peace in the Orient. With other nations, too, the United States is to associate itself in a program of naval reduction precisely such as that contemplated in the League of Nations. Mr. Harding, through his secretary of state, is doing his utmost to lay the foundation for the association of nations proposal that Senator Borah forced him to retract just before the election.

America will applaud the sentiments conveyed to congress in the president's message. They will find an immediate response in public approval. In its essential aspects Mr. Harding's program is no different from that of President Wilson. He wants universal peace, he wants to end war. It is what President Wilson desired. Mr. Wilson recognized the fact that it could be done, only by common agreement, by setting up agencies to regulate international affairs and enforce agreements. Mr. Harding recognizes the same fact in a little different form. Fundamentally there is no difference between them. There will be the same modification of sovereignty, the same engagement in foreign affairs, the same commitments, in either event. Mr. Harding's administration is headed toward an epoch in foreign policies. It promises achievements of the first order. No longer do we jeer at the phrase, "our duty to humanity." No longer do we place selfishness and jingoism above that duty. The creed for 1922 is to be a rebirth of the creed of 1918, when America reached the Olympian heights. It may disgust Hiram Johnson, but it will rejoice the hearts of the American people.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

AREMEDY FOR POOR DIGESTION

The late Austin Flint the elder, famous physician and physiologist, expressed in his ripe years some doubt as to the value of dieting in the treatment of disorders of digestion. In his day dieting was based largely upon empirical grounds, that is, on pure theory, and the regimen laid down for the patient consisted chiefly of a may eat list and a may not eat list of various dishes or articles of food, such as unqualified leaders of the modern plausible "schools" still palm off on the gullible victim. Moreover, in Flint's time the divers kinds of "dyspepsia" and "indigestion" were taken seriously by the doctors as well as the laity, for in those days surgery was almost an unknown art and living pathology was therefore a closed book to the medical profession.

Such popular notions as the one that starry foods must be avoided if much gas forms in the stomach, or the one that meat or some mysterious extract purporting to be derived from meat is especially strengthening or sustaining or the one that sweets and sugars are in some curious way harmful to children, come from the dietetic empiricism of the doctors of the era of Austin Flint, but nevertheless Flint was a great man, and the doctors of his day were quite as efficient and well informed in their work as we are the lawyers or the chemists or any presumably learned man.

Many readers who are aware that I do not attempt to determine by mail the nature of an illness or to advise what remedy should be used, nevertheless imagine I can prescribe or outline a suitable diet for an individual condition. They forget that medical science has progressed somewhat in the past 50 years. In that time we have learned that the ready made diet lists tugged with the names of various real or imaginary diseases are about as appropriate and useful as would be one standard pair of pants for all human beings who wear such apparels.

But I venture to announce that we have a remedy for indigestion which in any case, no matter what ails the victim, can do no harm and which in many cases has drawn from the grateful victims fulsome praise in the form of testimonials. I am not printing the testimonials. You'll have to take my naked word for it, which you may safely do, since the remedy can bring me no possible profit—a little point sometimes overlooked by the reader of published testimonials.

The remedy I wish to commend is, I am sorry to announce, water.

A glassful, two glassfuls, or a pint or water drunk immediately before a meal will stimulate the secretion of gastric juice, aid the digestion of any food in the stomach, and hasten the emptying of undigested residues into the bowel. A generous drink of water the first thing on rising in the morning, cold or warm as preferred, preferably without salt or other addition, I cannot say that it does any harm to the average person, is one of the best, and a digestive stimulant, one can take as a matter of habit. Besides, it improves the whole metabolism or life process. If preferred, the water may be taken in several drinks, in the course of or at the close of the meal.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Reduced While You Wait

Please send me your Karell-regimen. I must reduce. I am 24 years old, 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 142 pounds. How much should I weigh? (Miss H. G. W.)

Answer—One hundred and forty-two pounds. That's why I am getting chary about sending readers the Karell method of reduction. They've got to show me they need it.

The Dignity of Labor

I work in a factory where the windows are nailed shut and the only ventilation is thru skylights. The doors are locked at 7 in the morning and kept locked all day—if a fire broke out one would have to look for the key. The bosses and men employees chew tobacco and spit all over, and the toilets and lockers are filthy. There is no janitor. Please name some one who will see that conditions are changed. (Miss M. C.)

Answer—Report the conditions to the health department in person or by letter. Also report to the chief of the fire department. A beast who chews tobacco and expectorates ought to be made to take every drop of it back.

Calomel

Is it necessary for people to take a course of calomel at regular intervals in order to keep well? (R. M. G.)

Answer—Not without the doctor's advice, surely. Such treatment is sometimes recommended to people who have a taint of syphilis. Calomel is a fine drug to leave severely alone.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

China's Open Door Swings Outward

The unanimous agreement "in principle" among the nations of the Washington Conference to China's plea for independence from foreign domination, as embodied in the four resolutions of Mr. Root, has been followed by a certain amount of reflection in editorial columns as to what this agreement may develop in practice. To determine this, "we shall have to wait further explanations," thinks the VANCOUVER (B. C.) PROVINCE, since the "conversations" leading to this report were not made public, but if it is agreed that China is to have full political and administrative authority the convention need not trouble itself about the open door in China. That nation will have the same right over her "doorways" as Britain or the United States. The gates will be hers to open and hers to close.

Whether China is qualified to be her own doorkeeper, however, is an open question in much of the comment. The CANTON (C) NEWS (Dem.) thinks the "concessions" of the conference "may be somewhat remote in their application" because, to quote the PHOENIX (N. Y.) JOURNAL-NEWS (Ind.), "only a strong government can cope with the situation" and all that is to befall China of foreign domination has been "because China was too weak to resist," in the opinion of the WILKES-BARRE RECORD (Rep.).

The SAN ANTONIO LIGHT (Ind.) notes that China admits the "possibility" that she "may be unable, at present, to administer her own government affairs properly; but she applies to the conference for exact specifications of her obligations. So that she may go about the task of discharging them." However, "in order that this policy may be put in effect," says the PORTLAND OREGONIAN (Ind. Rep.), "the whole network of spheres, concessions and privileges held by other nations should be swept away," but "until orderly government is established, independence and national integrity would be of small value, for foreign enterprise and capital would shun the country."

That this consideration would not be of paramount importance to China, once foreign restrictions were lifted from her commerce, is implied by the LOS ANGELES TIMES (Ind. Rep.), which states that "Chinese merchants have shown the ability to drive out competition wherever they found it."

"As matters stand," observes the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS (Ind. Dem.) "the republic can make no reciprocity treaty with any nation," which is "not only an injustice to China, but a disadvantage to other countries." For a "period of nearly eighty years," says the TOPEKA CAPITAL (Rep.), "China has been under an enforced agreement not to levy tariff duties in excess of five per cent," and "up to this time" says the FORT-WAYNE JOURNAL GAZETTE (Dem.), "the only thing that has been definitely granted China is that she shall be permitted by the United States, England, France, Italy and Japan to increase her tariff duties from five to 12 per cent."

Thus having prevented China from raising "the revenue necessary to maintain the government," this paper continues, they "force" loans upon her that other nations would not accept. "It was startling to learn, as many persons did, for the first time," says the BUTTE MINER (Dem.), "that these foreign governments had assumed to enforce upon China a provision that that country could not impose a tariff duty exceeding five per cent upon any kind of goods imported by the Chinese," and "this was done," explains the SIOUX CITY TRIBUNE (Ind.), "to protect business men of the powers from competition with Chinese labor and enterprise" in their different "spheres of influence" wherein the "foreign country holding it is quarantined for 25 or more years freedom from all competition within specified boundaries with all other nations, including the Chinese resident therein," with the result that "China soon broke out with a smallpox of such monopolies."

But in the matter of customs control, the RENO GAZETTE (Rep.) feels that it "is quite natural" that there "should be some exasperation on the part of the British delegation," since the British "have administered the Chinese customs... for many years and no money has stuck to their fingers." The Chinese spell duplicity at every step. "Recently the Chinese government turned down an offer of a loan of $16,000,000 from the consortium of which the United States is a member," with which money "they could readily have paid their debts to the outside world."

"The British interpretation of Mr. Root's four principles," says the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER (Ind. Dem.), "does not countenance giving China control of her customs, but it does specify the creation of a four-power consortium," which would "pool all the special Chinese interests of the four nations and assure their protection by retaining control of the customs and railroads," though the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Ind. Rep.) thinks "the United States would shrink from that responsibility."

China's "threat" to withdraw from the conference if Britain's interpretation prevails is, in the opinion of the ASHEVILLE (N. C.) TIMES (Ind.), "unfortunate," since in the conference she is "in a very peculiar sense in the house of her card," and the SPRINGFIELD (N. Y.) NEWS (Dem.) states that "the world understands China needs aid but it knows too that China stubbornly refuses the kind of help most necessary in her case."

While the SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE (Ind.) believes that "it would be difficult, and perhaps impossible, for any central government to firmly establish itself without an outside assistance," the MANCHESTER UNION (Ind. Rep.) thinks that in the matter of courts "there must be some safeguard for foreigners" and that it will be "some time before the principles so easily set forth and cheerfully acceded to in Washington can be fully applied in practice," though the NEW YORK TRIBUNE (Rep.) sees the conference "moving steadily in the direction of an emancipated China" as evidenced by its allowing her "to manage her own postal system."

The First Sermon

LONDON—Aspiring orators frequently wonder how a minister feels while delivering his sermon, is he momentarily "seared," or does he possess the habitual self-assurance and confidence of the public speaker in other walks of life. The LONDON-MAIL presents a word-picture from "A Curate" which describes in numerous detail his first sermon.

"The hymn before the sermon is drawing to its close. I have descended the pulpit steps, and am standing 'six feet above contrition,'" he writes.

"There is a dreadful pause; seven hundred pairs of eyes are on me. My first instinct is to duck. Then I remember myself and the vicar's final words: 'Don't forget the invocation before and the ascription afterwards.'

"Good gracious! I have started. It sounds like a stranger speaking, and I seem far away, but I give my eyes on my manuscript and carry on. My knees are simply hanging together as a discourse on the doctrine of sanctification.

"Then I remember the ascription—relief at last! Out it comes, and I go back to my stall feeling an absolute wreck.

"Not at all bad for a first attempt," says the vicar afterwards. 'I thought at first you were going to be deadly dull, but you warmed up to it nicely—earnestness tells.'

Deep bass murmurings have come

Common Council Appoints Unemployment Committee to Canvass Unemployment Situation

Kaukauna—A step toward relieving the unemployment situation in this city was taken at the council meeting Tuesday evening in the council rooms when Jacob Stoeger appeared as a representative of the trades and labor council and entered a plea that the city council take action in the matter.

The situation was discussed and the views of several citizens and business men were heard with the result that the mayor appointed a committee composed of J. J. Martens and H. T. Runtz representing the business men; J. Stoeger and Charles Heitling, representing the trades council, and John T. Timmers, representing the city council to visit the manufacturers in this city, explain the action taken and ask them to employ home men whenever a vacancy occurs.

Mr. Stoeger stated the trades council would undertake to canvass the entire city and secure the names of all men who are out of work. The condition of the individual workmen also will be considered in employing men.

It was suggested it would be a good plan to establish an office similar to an employment bureau where employers might apply for men to work for them. Mayor Raught offered the use of the office buildings next to the city building site if the trades council will put a man in charge. Joseph W. LeFevre city attorney, also offered his services in that he agreed to receive the names of all men in the city who are out of work and their present financial condition. Frank M. Charlesworth, Jr., offered his office in the library building as a place where the trades council can receive the names of the unemployed. The committee will consider the offers and will choose one which will be most convenient for the work.

One of the aldermen suggested that a man who is out of work should report to the alderman in his ward since that official would be in a better position to know the real status of the workman. The suggestion will also be taken up by the committee.

A social hour followed the business session and refreshments were served in the domestic science rooms of the high school.

CHIEF FUNCTION OF COMMUNITY IS MAKE IT BETTER

Dr. R. O. Heironymus Describes Community Building to C. C. Forum

"The building of a community, making it a better place to live, should be the chief occupation of every community," declared Robert C. Heironymus, community building advisor of the University of Illinois, in his address before the chamber of commerce forum in Elk hall Tuesday evening. Dr. Heironymus declared that it is the chief function of a chamber of commerce to make its community a better place to live.

Only about 100 men and women attended the dinner and heard the addresses which followed. Dr. Samuel Plantz, president of Lawrence college, presided. Community singing under the leadership of W. S. Ford opened the program.

Merchants and townspeople generally were urged to do their Christmas mailing early by Postmaster Gustave Keller who delivered a message from Postmaster General Will H. Hayes. Mr. Keller said the burden on postal employees will be greatly lessened if everyone will make it a point to dispose of his Christmas shopping and mailing at once.

NEED OF EDUCATION
William Mather Lewis of the education department of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States was one of the principal speakers. His address will be found elsewhere in this paper.

Mr. Heironymus devoted a large part of his lecture to discussing the need of education and to defining a community. He said that it made a great difference in this country, where everyone has a chance to become a national leader, if everyone is educated and he declared that the nation has set a gigantic task in attempting to provide adequate training for all the children of all the people. He said that this is no time to glory in our national achievements when we think of all that still is to be done.

"We can't do as we always have done," Dr. Heironymus said. "New tasks and new responsibilities are awaiting us and we must prepare ourselves and the coming generations for the work that is ahead."

The speaker commented on the increasing use of the word "community," saying that it is found everywhere. The use of the word, however, is not an accident but is due to the fact that people everywhere are beginning to think and to act in terms of the community, he said.

WHAT COMMUNITY MEANS
"The ever-increasing use of that word raises the question of what is a community," the speaker said. "True, it is defined in the dictionary but not in the sense that it now is being used."

YOU ARE INVITED

being used. I have coined a new definition which reads: 'A community is a group of people (with emphasis on the group) living together in a compact territory, that is coming to think and act together in the chief concerns of life.'

"Geographical boundaries do not mark community lines. It is true that trade boundaries very nearly indicate the limits of the community and the only way to extend the boundaries is to offer greater and better facilities to all the people."

Mr. Heironymus observed that trade and business is drawn to a city which is a good place to live and suggested that a good way of enlarging a community is to improve this community. A city cannot be made a better place to live without its becoming a more beautiful place, he said.

ALL SHOULD HELP
The speaker touched on the desirability, and practicality of a community building, saying that if a building of that kind is constructed it should be with the cooperation of all the persons in the community. It should not be a structure built by city people for use of farmers but the farmer should have a personal interest in it.

An interesting description of a community building in the little town of Emmons, Minn., was offered by Mr. Heironymus. This structure was built by all the people in the community and is used by all of them. Similar buildings soon will be erected in the larger cities and the speaker suggested that they be used by activities which have no homes of their own. He said that a community building would be a unifying element in the community.

The speaker urged that the community spirit be encouraged and that an effort be made to create a community interest because, he said, that man who is a good citizen of his community is a good citizen of the country.

CLEAR WAY FOR APPEAL IN LUDMAN LAWSUIT

Exceptions to the decision rendered a few weeks ago by Circuit Judge Hurbut in Oshkosh, which allowed William Ludman $675 damages against the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company, were filed by the counsel for the defendants. This proceeding clears the way for an appeal to the Supreme court from Judge Hurbut's decision, who ordered a judgement in favor of the plaintiff on the special verdict, which assessed the above damages for injuries received in a collision between an automobile in which he was riding and an interurban car belonging to the defendant company. If the court should find that he was entitled to recover.

NEENAH SCOUTS IN APPLETON COUNCIL

Local Executives Frown on Plan to Organize School in Oshkosh

The Neenah troop of the Boy Scouts of America, as proposed by the Rev. Raymond A. Heron, master of the troop, has been accepted as a part of the local council at the meeting of the executive committee held in the Appleton hotel Monday evening. Hereafter all business of the Neenah troop will be conducted through local headquarters.

A committee composed of Joseph Koffand, Jr., E. L. Madsen and H. L. Post will investigate a plan to advertise the scout movement in local store windows each week. The advertising period probably will begin in January and last nine weeks. Oshkosh delegates to the meeting proposed a school for scout leaders to be held in Oshkosh for eight weeks, one evening a week. Dr. Elson, University of Wisconsin, would conduct the school as he has had much experience in this line of work. The project was not looked on with favor but it was suggested that a three day school be held in this city for the same purpose. The suggestions were referred to the educational committee, consisting of Lee C. Rasey, the Rev. A. Grill and W. S. Ford.

A committee was selected to work with the chamber of commerce in the proposed plan of obtaining quarters in the new Lutheran Aid building. Henry W. Tuttrup and Frank Young comprise the committee to look after the new quarters.

The first meeting of the new court of honor will be held in headquarters Friday evening.

The Silver Lining

An unusual story presented in an unique manner is that portrayed in "The Silver Lining," a Metro release, starring Jewel Carmen, supported by a notable cast of Broadway favorites.

Every incident shown in this thrilling picture, which started at Appleton Theater Monday night, is founded upon actual life and Roland West, who wrote and directed it, was a personal witness of many of the incidents portrayed.

In "The Silver Lining" the lovable adventures are portrayed by Jewel Carmen, known to thousands of picture goers through her appearance on the screen with Douglas Fairbanks, William Farnum and in many other pictures in which she starred.

Playing the part of the young author, the original of which is famous for his literary contributions, is Leslie Austen, at present leading man with Madge Kennedy in "Cornered." Previous to appearing in this show

Mr. Austen had the leading male role with Ethel Barrymore in her successful stage play "Declasse." Others in this stellar cast are: Colt Albertson, Virginia Vail, Julia Swayne Gordon, J. Herbert Frank, Edwards Davis, Mario Coverdale, Gladden James, Theodore Labock, Charles Wollesley, Henry Sedley, Jui Powers.

NEED MORE MONEY TO FINISH ONEIDA CHURCH

Because of financial reasons, the Indian Episcopal church of Oneida, known for many years as the Hobart church, will not be finished this year, according to the Rev. William Watson. The church, which was destroyed by lightning and fire in 1920, has cost nearly $20,000 so far, but an additional $10,000 is needed to complete and furnish it. Mr. Watson announces that he will be glad to accept contributions toward completing the church and that checks could also be sent to the Rt. Rev. Bishop R. H. Weller at Fond du Lac. The original church was dedicated in 1886.

Very little will be done this winter by the county highway commission to keep the roads free from snow for traffic, A. G. Brusewitz county highway commissioner said, unless the inhabitants of the various towns insist on the work being done. In that case the commission will do the work and the county will pay the bills but one-half the expense must be paid back to the county.

With the $1,950 left in the highway commissioner's fund, snow plows and tools will be repaired, and as many miles of road will be cleaned as can be done with the limited funds. The county board, at its last meeting, would not appropriate additional funds for this purpose.

Brusewitz Says County Can Do Little Work in Removing Snow

Very little will be done this winter by the county highway commission to keep the roads free from snow for traffic, A. G. MUNICIPAL COURT FINES TOTAL MORE THAN $500

The sum of $500.95 was collected by the municipal court in fines and court costs for the month of November. Fines and criminal actions amounting to $434.55 were paid to the county treasurer. The city treasurer received $300 for the court for violations of city ordinances, and $15.40 representing patrolmen fees and costs, which went into the police pension fund.

And all he could say, was — "Well, good-bye, Jim—take keer of yourself"

THE POET, Riley, has told the story beautifully and well—how the old-fashioned father sent the boy out into the world. A heart full of affection and hope spoke only these words: "Well, good-bye, Jim; take keer of yourself."

Enough to say, enough to hope for, enough to do—take care of yourself—and there's the foundation of safety, the promise of success.

And how easy a thing to fail in! For instance, the common practice of coffee or tea-drinking administers to the system a dosing of drug whose harm has been pointed out repeatedly by medical men, sometimes in alarming terms—and whose effect is very commonly found in over-excited nerves, sleeplessness, irritability, indigestion, high blood pressure—loss of efficiency; failure to "get on."

The drug, caffeine in coffee and therein in tea, acts as a whip upon the nerves. Over-whipped nerves may run away, or break down, —like an over-whipped horse.

Thousands of people have found for themselves that they cannot safely drink coffee or tea. Some have had the news broken to them by their physicians, and many are complaining about symptoms of nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of alertness during business hours, and wondering what the cause may be —when the cause probably is tea or coffee. A great many people who know they cannot safely drink coffee at night still hope they can go on with it at other times, and dodge the damage.

How easy it is to fail to take care—and how hard the consequences usually are!

A quarter of a century ago Postum brought to the world's dining table that kindest wish of friendship and good will: "Take care of yourself." Cheerfully, pleasantly, happily, Postum has brought the message and shown the way to increasing thousands in every land —"Take care of yourself."

Postum is a pure cereal beverage, a cup of kindness from Nature's smiling grain fields —a table drink of charm without harm.

There's no drug in Postum—but plenty of satisfaction and comfort. Postum can be enjoyed by every member of the family—no need to draw the danger line and warn away the children as is usually thought necessary with coffee and tea. And no need to fear that Postum with the evening meal will rob the night of sleep—not Postum!

Postum is a friendly drink, always. And it fully satisfies. Those who have tried Postum as a relief from the ills of coffee and tea have kept on with Postum for itself. They have found better sleep, better feeling, better fitness —better health—and they do enjoy the taste of this splendid mealtime drink!

MAYOR WILL OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON

CITY OFFICIALS INVITED TO SEE GAME WITH FONDY

Dame's Team Plays First Game of Season With Green Bay Tonight

Mayor J. A. Hawes will add formality to the opening of the professional basketball season here Thursday night. The mayor had consented to throw out the ball which will be used in the game with Fond du Lac and it is possible he will give a short address before the beginning of play. Members of the council and city officials have been invited to attend the game as the guests of the management.

The team will get into action for the first time tonight when it plays the Reamer Weiners of Green Bay. The Weiners have been working together for some time and are presenting a formidable front. Manager George Dame announced Wednesday morning that Taylor will be in the lineup when the squad takes the floor at Green Bay. Taylor has found it hard to get out for practice but is rapidly rounding into shape. Stark and Kubitz will be used in the forward positions, with Waterpool and Normington available as centers. Taylor, Kanner and Boettcher as guards. Dame also has a few more men under cover and may use them against the Baymen.

Fond du Lac is confident of downing the local squad in the first game here, according to reports from the Fountain city. The squad has been working for about two weeks preparing for the start of the season. It is likely that the two teams from Appleton Women club will play a curtain raiser to the main contest. A dance will follow the game.

SHOW INTEREST IN "Y" MAT SPORTS

The interest shown at the organization meeting for boxing class at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening indicates a large class. A number of men who desired to enroll were not able to do so Monday evening because of the American Legion monthly meeting. However, quite a number of men registered for the course. The wrestling class met for organization Tuesday evening under the direction of Leslie Blackburn, Lawrence athlete who has been engaged to instruct the matmen. A course of 25 lessons will be given at the end of which time a tournament will be held to pick a team which will represent the Y. M. C. A. in the mat for the city championship tourney which will be held in the spring.

ILLINOIS CAPTAIN BARRED FROM GAME

By United Press Licensed Wire. Urbana, Ill.—Don Peden, captain-elect of the 1922 Illinois football team will not be able to play in the big ten next season, it was announced Wednesday. Peden, it is charged, played one year at Lombard and two at Illinois, thereby becoming ineligible under the three year rule in the conference. Dave Wilson, end, and Joe Sternaman, quarter, are the leaders for the position in the new election to be held this week.

WIND UP GRID SEASON IN MILWAUKEE SUNDAY

Milwaukee—In what is expected to be the final football game of the season, the Marquette All-stars, a grid team composed of former Marquette university players, will meet one of the strong professional elevens here Sunday afternoon. The Marquette All-stars in the first game defeated the Beloit Fairies last Sunday 21 to 0. The opposing team will be picked from the following: Green Bay Packers, Racine Legion or Waukegan Legion.

Vincent Gives His 1922 Title Seeks Their First Workout

Thirty candidates for the 1922 basketball team reported to Coach A. K. Vincent in the high school gymnasium, Monday afternoon for the first practice period of the year. Three "A" men of the last year's state championship quintet reported. They are Roach, Briscoe and Zussman. While three letter men were lost by graduation, Vincent feels confident of putting another championship squad on the floor this season as he has a wealth of new material to draw from. Among the aspirants who appeared are Thomas Davis, Harold Berro, William Tappert, Harry Boettcher, Harry Learned, George Morris.

The Blue and Orange quintet will open the season when it meets DePere high school at DePere, Friday evening Jan. 6. The schedule has not been completed as there are still a number of teams to be heard from. Ten games, six of which will be played on the home floor, are assured.

Collegians Open Cage Season Saturday Night

College students will blow the lid off their basketball season next Saturday evening when the annual interclass tournament is played in Armory G. Interest of townspeople in basketball and college sports has made it necessary to engage the big hall to take care of the crowds. Another reason for engaging the armory is that the low hanging rafters and small playing floor in Alexander gymnasium makes it almost impossible to stage a presentable basketball game. It is believed a much better game will be offered on the large floor.

The Saturday night contests will give Coach H. D. McChesney a real line on his basketball material. Four teams will take the floor in the battle for the college championship and about 35 or 40 players will get a chance to show their ability. Among last year's stars who will take part in the tournament are Bessing, Sorenson, Smith and Gault football players but mighty clever on the basketball floor. Among the new men are Winder, Berry, Ziebell, and Packard. A host of other young athletes also will try for places and it is possible that a few new stars will be uncovered.

There still is a chance that Stark and Normington will play with the college team. They are jewels of the first water but thus far have shown an inclination to play professional ball. If they remain with the college team, Lawrence will be in the running for the state cage title.

MAT CHAMPION TO BE DETERMINED IN TONIGHT'S BATTLE

Weaver and Hill in Splendid Condition for Gruelling Tussle

All doubts as to the wrestling championship of Wisconsin will be dispelled tonight when George Hill, Appleton, and Buck Weaver, Neenah, go on the mat in Armory G. Both men claim the title and both point to splendid records to prove their claim. The main bout probably will be started at 9 o'clock, after a classy card of preliminaries. Promoter Elmer Johnston has scoured the surrounding territory for young grapplers who will put up an interesting argument and thinks he has a good card.

Weaver and Hill have agreed that the winner of tonight's bout shall get the entire purse. Weaver said he would meet Hill on any terms the latter might propose and Hill suggested the winner take all basis. Attendance was larger at the last wrestling match than at the one preceding and it is believed it will be still larger tonight. The battle with Rogers showed local followers of the sport that Hill is better than he ever was and the effort of Promoter Johnston to bring wrestlers with reputations has aroused the interest of the fans.

Hill wants to meet Elmer Sanders, the Ashland giant, after the setto with Weaver if he is victorious. Sanders also says he had a claim to the state title but thus far has not expressed a willingness to test this claim with Hill. The local man says he is willing to meet the Ashland grappler anywhere and on any terms. Art, Hartzes, Little Chute, and William Tappert, Appleton, have signed to meet in one of the preliminaries. Mike Merkle, Oshkosh, and Young "Doc" Schwabs of Hortonville, will mix in another bout. On or two Lawrence college bouts also will be staged.

NORTHWESTERN WANTS ROCKNE AS GRID COACH

By United Press Licensed Wire. Chicago—Katie Rockne of Notre Dame has been made overtures to coach Northwestern university football team next year. MYSTERIOUS "PEEPER" TERRORIZES NEENAH

Neenah—Mysterious tracks in the snow and faces peering through windows have given residents of the small town here the "willies." They are sitting up nights trying to catch the nocturnal prowlers but so far the mystery of the latest visitation of the "peeper" is unsolved.

There still is a chance that Stark and Normington will play with the college team. They are jewels of the first water but thus far have shown an inclination to play professional ball. If they remain with the college team, Lawrence will be in the running for the state cage title.

Manager of Giants Pays Tremendous Sum for Balking Red Infielder

Buffalo, N. Y.—Listeners around the lobby conferences here Wednesday night might be led to believe that the national league pennant race next year is in.

The bright lights of the majors and the high minds of the minors voiced the opinion that John McGraw's purchase of Heinie Groh, the Cincinnati third baseman, gave the New York Giants a headlock on the next pennant. Wise baseball heads, however, did not agree on the business sagacity of a deal whereby the New York club gave a valuable outfielder, George Burns, a fair catcher, Mike Gonzales, and a sum reported around $100,000 for a player who has no more than four or five years ahead of him and no great drawing power at the gate.

DESTROYING EVIDENCE COST SALOONIST $300

Chippewa Falls—Herman Mehls, saloon keeper, was fined $300 and costs when he pleaded guilty in county court to a charge of destroying evidence while the police were raiding.

No doubt you would use more rice. More of this cereal grain is grown than any other foodstuff in the world. In the Orient it is the principal staple food. A shortage of this food in Japan not long ago led to serious riots. Few people know all of the many delightful ways in which rice may be served. It can be used in appetizing dishes for any meal you eat. Experts of the Department of Agriculture have prepared a booklet containing a compilation of all of the many ways that rice can be made into attractive dishes. This book will be sent to you entirely free. Simply fill out the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address so that they may be easily read.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

A Lover At 57

By Winona Wilcox

Here is another letter worth printing than any answer which could be framed. It is from a man:

"I have enjoyed 32 years of married incompatibility.

"Meanwhile I have loved two other women and have been loved by them.

"Honor forbade me to break up my home, though love for my wife is absolutely a thing of the past; her presence and her person repel me.

"With such an obstacle to happiness, nothing in life is worth while, only the experienced can know the heartache. I do not deny that she also suffers.

"Who is to blame? Two youngsters without worldly wisdom and innocent following the impulses of nature, marry. Time reveals to them not a little heaven but a veritable hell. They have fallen into a trap.

"What's the cure? Two youngsters without worldly wisdom and innocent following the impulses of nature, marry. Time reveals to them not a little heaven but a veritable hell. They have fallen into a trap.

"Right-mindedness? That might avert the tragedy of divorce and a scattered family, but no amount of right thinking can restore dead love.

"Sublimation? I cannot conceive of anything in life as other than drudgery unless shared with a heart of love and understanding.

"I am 57, but my heart vibrates still to the tune of a woman's love—and to nothing else without that."

X. Y. Z.

A brave statement of some bitter facts to which many men might subscribe.

The writer of the above and all who agree with him will find an exhaustive exposition of the circle of a man's life in H. G. Wells' remarkable novel "Marriage."

It is a thick book packed with ideas concerning the entirety of the interests of a man, as detached from his love instinct. The book explains how a man's love instinct can dwarf a man's highest ambitions and hamper his achievement.

"Marriage" as expounded by Wells, does not exalt love as the only essential to human happiness. The writer of the above letter does so. His is the popular view.

And it appears that he applied his principle and made his own experiments. He told at least two women besides his wife that he loved them and he was assured, in return, that he was beloved.

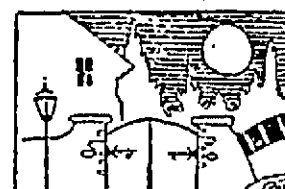

Before he married, he vowed that he loved the girl who became his wife.

Three loves, at least, have cheered him on his way.

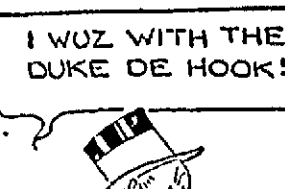

Would either one, or two, or all, or more have provided the antidote for the drudgery of existence?

The story of another man who followed this philosophy is told in "The Dark Flower" by Galsworthy. This tale and "Marriage" ably present the oppositions of modern love—from the man's angle.

Egg Desserts

When eggs are high in price the conscientious housekeeper hesitates to use many for desserts.

One egg can be made to take the place of many if judiciously used in conjunction with some old-fashioned elbow grease.

These desserts are planned to serve four persons.

DUTCH PEACH PUDDING
One and one-half cups flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 4 tablespoons butter, 1/2 cup milk, 1 egg, sugar, nutmeg, canned peaches.

Drain peaches from sirup. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in butter slightly softened. Beat egg till light and add milk. Add to dry mixture and beat well. Pour into a well buttered, deep pan. Add peaches sprinkle with sugar, gauging the amount by sweetness of the fruit, dust with nutmeg and bake in a moderate oven. The peaches will sink in the batter. Bake half an hour and serve warm with top milk.

STRAWBERRY FLOAT
One cup canned strawberries drained from their sirup, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, 1 1/4 cups milk, 1 dessertspoon flour, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.

Separate white and yolk of egg. Put white, powdered sugar and drained berries in a bowl and beat with a Dover-beater until stiff. This will take twenty minutes.

Put yolk of egg in top of double boiler with granulated sugar, salt and flour. Mix perfectly smooth and pour over scalded milk. Cook over hot water till custard coats the spoon. Remove and, when cool, add vanilla. Pour into a glass dish and drop the strawberry mixture from a tablespoon on the custard and serve at the table.

BANANA SNOW
Two bananas, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon water, 1 egg.
Peel bananas and scrape off the outside. Mash with sugar and lemon juice. Beat white of egg with water till stiff and dry. Then egg white must be beaten on a platter with a wire whisk. Fold in the banana mixture and chill to serve. Make little cup cakes, using the yolk of the egg.

BAKED NUT AND DATE PUDDING
One egg, 2 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon water, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 cup chopped English walnuts, 1/2 cup chopped dates.
Beat first five ingredients well. Add nuts and dates. Turn into a buttered pan and bake 20 minutes in a slow oven. Serve with whipped cream.

TAPIOCA CREAM
Two cups milk, 2 tablespoons, minute tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 egg, 1 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla.
Scald milk. Put milk, tapioca and salt in top of double boiler and cook 20 minutes, stirring frequently. Beat the white of the egg with sugar. Stir into tapioca and continue cooking until mixture thickens like custard. Remove and beat in the white of the egg whisked till stiff and dry. Add lemon juice and vanilla. Seat aside to chill.

Adventures of the Twins

Oliver Roberts Barton

TROUBLE

Cap'n Pennywinkle and Curly, his sea-horse, had had a terrible time while the Twins were away on their errand, and when they returned with the fish-net, there was the greatest commotion ever at the Cross-Roads, where the fairman policeman was trying to keep order. You see Tub Terrapin was lying flat on his tummy right in the way of traffic and everybody had to go 'round. Cap'n Pennywinkle was so absorbed, trying to get him out of the way, that he didn't have time to direct the other big fishes that came swimming by. The first thing he knew, hadn't th old saw-fish bumped into a big sea-wood tree, not looking where he was going at all, at all, and the first thing everybody knew, his big sharp saw had cut the tree down and there it lay in everybody's road. As though that helped matters any!

And the next thing, didn't Mr. Swordfish come blundering along with his long sharp nose, not looking where he was going and didn't he run right into the big thick trunk of the sea-wood tree and there he stuck, taking up all the spare room there was, nearly.

When the Twins returned, Cap'n

Pennywinkle and Curly were prancing around, trying every-which-way to get Mr. Swordfish free. Mr. Shark had come to help and Mr. Hammerfish and Mr. Sturgeon and Mack Mackerel, and I can't tell you how many more. The only thing was that all the helpers had different ideas about getting Mr. Swordfish loose. Mr. Shark was for cutting him at once, and if it hadn't been for Cap'n Pennywinkle's magic budge, I'm afraid he would have done so.

And all on account of lazy Tub Terrapin. There Tub lay, as unconcerned as you please.

ROAD INFORMATION SERVICE INDORSED

Tourists and Automobile Owners Offer Suggestions for Improving Service

Appleton subscribers to the information bureau conducted by the Wisconsin highway commission during the tourist season, are praising the work and are in favor of its continuance during the coming season. Oscar Kuntz, local taxi owner, who is a subscriber to the information bureau, says he has found it very satisfactory and will do all he can to further its adoption for next season.

Questionnaires have been sent to patrons of the information bureau by the state highway commission requesting suggestions for bettering the service. The questions asked were: "Do you believe the service is worth while and do you think the service is appreciated by the tourists?" "Would a smaller map serve the purpose fully as well?" "Should the map show important secondary or county trunk roads as well as the state trunk roads?" "What time do you believe the service should begin and end, in other words how many weeks should we consider for service in 1927?"

The first question was answered almost unanimously in the affirmative, while the second question caused much discussion because of the expense of putting the new roads on the map but most all agreed the size of the map should be smaller for convenience in hanging on the wall. The majority of subscribers believed the service should begin in June and end late in October. All those who had occasion to use the service but who are not subscribers, declared themselves to be in favor of the changes recommended by the subscribers.
